FAILED TO LAND AFTER A RALLY

Washington Took Brace Too Late.

STUPID WORK BY WINNERS

New Yorkers Showed Little Headwork in Pinches—Stahl Got Lucky Homer.

With the game seemingly lost to them by 4 to 0, the Senators inaugurated a rally against New York yesterday, but as usual fell a trifle short of victory. The final score was 4 to 3.

The Highlanders began work on Townsend early, and made two runs in the first inning. They got one each in the third and fourth innings, increasing their lead to four. Meanwhile the Senators were unable to hit Jack Powell. But in the seventh they got in the running, scoring a pair of runs, thanks to some stupid work by the pennant-seekers.

Were Stupid.

Old Reliable Jim McGuire and Ganzel were the offenders. Mullin beat out a measly whack, and went to third on Cassidy's hard one to right. Donovan's crack bounded too high to catch the runner at first, but McGuire lost a chance to nail Mullin, who played too far off third. Mullin scored on Clark's fly to Dougherty. Ganzel squeezed Townsend's grounder, and thinking that Donovan was going home, threw to McGuire. Patsy, however, hugged third like a bear. O'Neill's grounder to Elberfeld forced Townsend at second, but Donovan failed.

The Senators got another in the eighth when Conroy threw Stahl's grounder in the bleachers, permitting him to go all the way around.

The Score.

TWO BALL GAMES TODAY, IF IT DOESN'T RAIN

Weather permitting, there will be a double-header at American League Park this afternoon between the New Yorks and Washingtons. The first game will be called at 2 o'clock, and one admission will be charged to both games. Patten and Clarke, and Jacobson and Kittredge, and Chesbro and McGuire, and Clarkson and McManus will probably be the batteries.

TWO CRACK WRESTLERS TO SETTLE CONTENTION

Joe Grant, champion of the South, and Charles Reineke, of Richmond, will this evening meet in a wrestling bout for the championship of the South, at the Washington Light Infantry armory.

Both men are reported to be in the best possible condition as a result of hard, faithful training, and a good match is promised, as both men are strong and fast. Reineke has arrived in town and will this afternoon be joined by Harvey Parker, the veteran wrestler so well known to Washingtonians. He and Parker will do light work on the mat this afternoon to put in the finishing touches. Parker, who is a brother-in-law of Reineke, will be in the Richmond wrestler's corner tonight.

Several preliminaries have been arranged. The first will be put on at 8 o'clock.

COLUMBIA TENNIS STOPPED BY DARKNESS

None of the matches in the opening day of the fall tennis tournament at the Columbia Golf Club was finished yesterday because of darkness. The scores were as follows:

J. T. Hendricks beat Arthur Plant, 6-2, 6-3.
W. Bennett won by default from Dr. Harban.

William C. Hill beat A. B. Duval, Jr., 6-4, 6-3.
H. M. Morse beat Robert Cox, 6-1, 6-2.

F. R. Parks beat Arthur C. Moses in the first set of match, 7-5.

This is the way they play today in the second round. Hendricks, Hill against Bennett. Morse against winner of Parks-Moses match. Hill against Halstead.

Presented Pennant to Winning Team. King Best Captain and Kinney Best Pitcher.

Loyal followers of the Sunday-School Athletic Association thronged to the Mount Pleasant grounds yesterday afternoon to witness the distribution of prizes to the players winning honors in the league.

To the Fourth Presbyterian team, managed by Mr. Westhauser, and captained by Charlie King, was awarded the championship pennant.

President George A. Provost introduced Mr. West, who complimented the boys on their successful season, and presented the winners with the pennant. Mr. West was followed by Thomas C. Noyes, who presented the winning team with the "Evening Star" cup, and addressed the players along the line of church work in athletic matters.

The Prizes. After the presentation of team prizes the players winning individual honors were awarded trophies. Ballenger, of the Guntons, was given a handsome banjo for leading the batsmen. Hayden, of St. Stephen's, was presented with a pair of the best made baseball shoes for purloining the most bases. "Dutch" Kinney, pitcher and captain of the Foundry team, was presented with an order for a suit of clothes on Parker & Bridget for leading the twirlers in the number of games won. Each of the following were presented with a $1.00 life insurance policy in the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, prepaid for one year: Ballenger, for being the best batter; Bradley, for being the best catcher; Kerr, for being the best infielder; Hayden, for being the best base stealer; Phillips, for being the best outfielder; Kinney, for being the best pitcher, and King for being the best captain.

William Betts was presented with a handsome gold watch by the members of the league for his competent umpiring during the season.

First Hard Practice On Georgetown Field

Coach Reilly Lines Up Two Elevens for a Mild Scrimmage—McGettigan and Given Back—Mueller New Recruit.

Liniment was as much in demand around the Georgetown football training quarters this morning as gin at a Notley Hall Sunday excursion.

Graduate Coach Reilly celebrated the beginning of the second week of practice by giving the candidates the hardest work of the season thus far. After the usual warming up stunts of falling on the ball, starting and catching punts, the squad was divided into two elevens, and for twenty minutes the players had a regular scrimmage. No hard tackling was allowed, as Coach Reilly had the men line up principally to show the new candidates what will be expected of them both on the defense and offense of the Georgetown system. After the scrimmage the whole squad was lined up on the track which surrounds the field, for a quarter-mile run.

McGettigan Appears. Two men who are looked upon as virtually sure of landing positions on the team reported yesterday for the first time. McGettigan, who, it was thought, would be lost because of the death of his father last month, has made arrangements to continue his studies at the university, and will again be a candidate for his old place at quarterback.

The adipose Given, who for three years has held down the pivotal position, re-sorted at the field, weighing 235 pounds. He will try for center against McGuire.

his substitute for two seasons, and Pascall, the new man, who weighs 250. Carl Mueller, captain of the Potomac Boat Club crew, during the past summer, has decided to enter the Georgetown Law School for the three year course, and will try for the varsity eleven and crew. He weighs 170 pounds and will be a candidate for tackle. Mueller is looked upon as a valuable asset for the Blue and Gray forces, as he is a good carsman and, while he lacks gridiron experience, should develop into a good football player this fall.

Mudd Expected. Another likely candidate for the eleven, is Mudd, the ex-captain of St. John's College, who is now at Annapolis assisting in the coaching of the institution's squad, but will come to Georgetown. He has played at right guard, and as he weighs nearly 190 pounds, should put up a fight for one of the line positions. He is a cousin of a member of the varsity crew of last spring.

Albaticchio, the 1922 quarterback, who has been playing the position in McGettigan's absence, will remain out and continue his fight for the position.

Beginning this afternoon Coach Reilly will commence to form his team for the game with the Maryland Agricultural College next Saturday. But four more practice days remain before the opening game, and during that time the whole squad has to learn the signals, as all the candidates will be given a chance.

It is said that Mathewson, McGinnity, Taylor, and one or two other star players have been given money not to play in the proposed series, and that even if they would not be considered as playing representative champions of the National League without "Matty," "the Iron Man," and the "Dummy" in the game.

Personal Comment on Men and Things in the Field of Sports

It's a queer thing how some of the football players are changing their minds about where they expect to gain the rudiments of an education. Borgz, the University of Nebraska center, started to practice with the University of Chicago this season, and was awarded a tower of strength. Last week he suddenly announced that he was going back to Nebraska, and away he went. Stagz was in despair, but that evening he received a telegram from Shaver, for two years center of the University of Washington team, announcing that he was on his way to Chicago. Shaver was considered as one of the best ever developed on the Coast.

Wisconsin denies that Williamson, the crack Milwaukee high school track and football man, is going to desert the Badgers and enter Chicago.

Eighty football suits were given out to football men at Illinois, and twenty more were needed.

The Weeks family has outstripped the Poe family as producers of football players, according to the following dispatch from Ann Arbor, where the University of Michigan is located:

"Another of the famous Weeks family has entered college, and has reported for football work. In 1898 Alan Weeks was fullback on the Michigan team, which won the championship of the West. 'Boss' Weeks became known throughout the country for the work which he did at quarter in 1901 and 1902. Will Weeks was a valuable substitute in 1902. Last year Hal Weeks was one of the team's star players, and will try again for the varsity sweater this year. Today A. E. Weeks, 'Another of the famous Weeks family' at the lake. 'Any more left up in Allegan, Mich.?' he was asked. 'Yes,' he said, 'I have three younger brothers, and they will all come to Michigan in time.'

Nice liberal sports in England! The National Sporting Club has actually offered so much as $1,000 for a fight between Frankie Neil, the English champion, and Jim Bowker, the English champion. Maybe the club could be induced to offer $1,000 for a fight for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Frank Bryan concedes the honors among the older horses this season to First Mason, the Western horse. Many critics think he is as good as his half-brother, McChesney, ever was in his best days.

Charley Gates, son of John W., is said to be one of the best of work in the combination of big horses to have won on the season so far. He got his money by backing long shots, cashing quite a pile on Africander.

Boston Americans pay $5,000 per year for police service in handling the crowds. In Philadelphia and Washington the service is free—but rotten.

Ned Hanlon is being roasted for playing the Brooklyn club with the Youngstown (Ohio) team, in which are several contract jumpers, and Phyle, an expelled player, Hanlon was the man who at the last meeting of the National League offered a resolution, which was adopted, declaring against such games.

The explanation offered about the light betting at the New York tracks now is that at this stage of the season the form of the horses is so well established that the owners and trainers have a pretty good idea whether or not their horses can win, and refuse to bet unless they think their nags have a chance. When the owner and trainer money is taken out of the ring there's a big hole in the betting transactions.

Johnny Regan and Benny Yanger are to fight in Chicago September 23. In October Yanger will meet Tommy Mowatt, and Battling Nelson will meet the winner of the series of scraps. Chicago promoters are also after a match between George Gardner and John Willis.

Among the Filipinos at the St. Louis Fair the Moros are the best in track events, and the Negritos excel in free climbing and archery. Throwing the spear is the event which elicits the keenest competition.

Jockey Elmer Heigelson, who won the American Derby and was later indignantly suspended for another match, John Smulski, is dangerously ill with typhoid in Chicago.

Detroit and St. Louis split even in double-headers five times in seven days.

Frankie Neil and his pal, Jim Neil, have had a falling out. Frankie wanted to fight everybody in sight, while his father spent too much time making himself ridiculous roasting the Philadelphia newspapers for truthfully stating that in the last bout Tommy Murphy probably had a shade the better of the bantam champ.

Jimmy Britt is talking in a cheery manner about how he will dictate terms to Young Corbett for another match. Jimmy has acted pretty big, anyhow, since he beat the featherweight champion on a mighty doubtful decision.

Williams, the Carlisle fullback, is playing with the Northwestern this season. He received a diamond ring from California, Minneapolis, and Carlisle, but he returned them all, and says he will stick to Northwestern.

Mike Schreck and Hugo Kelly are to meet at Los Angeles on October 2. They are to box at 148 pounds.

Bob Russell, the English boxer, says he will make all matches at 128 pounds ring-side, give or take two pounds.

M. S. Bennett, last year's fullback, has arrived at the University of Pennsylvania, after spending the summer in the Adirondacks playing baseball. Bennett has played four years of football, and consequently will be unable to represent the Red and Blue this season.

Two business men of Trenton have offered to back a basketball team in that city, and there is likely to be a first-class organization in New Jersey's capital during the coming winter.

An appeal will be made to the American Trotting Association at the next session of the board of appeals for a ruling on the question as to whether or not a horse can remain in the stable and win money. This will be taken as the result of a race in Missouri in which four heat winners were left to fight the race out and in the sixth heat one of the horses was distanced. According to past turf decisions the appeal will be without avail.

BRUSH IS DODGING AN EXTRA SERIES

Monster Benefit a Gigantic Bluff.

HAS BOUGHT OUT STARS

Rumored He Has Paid McGinnity, Mathewson, and Taylor Not to Play.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The announcement by officials of the New York National League Club that a monster testimonial would be tendered to the Giants on a day to be decided upon before the close of the regular baseball season, and which will be known as field day, will virtually put an end to all negotiations tending to bring about a post-season series between the Giants and the winner of the American League race.

It is learned from a reliable source that Mr. Brush, to make doubly sure that his plans would not be thwarted by the players at the last moment arranging a series with the American League champions, "bought out" several of the Giants.

A Cheap Trick. It is said that Mathewson, McGinnity, Taylor, and one or two other star players have been given money not to play in the proposed series, and that even if they would not be considered as playing representative champions of the National League without "Matty," "the Iron Man," and the "Dummy" in the game.

Ex-Georgetown Will Handle Candidates at George Washington University—Team Should Improve

Alex. Rorke, the boy ex-tackle of the Georgetown football team, has been engaged by the George Washington University to coach its football team this season.

This is the first time in the history of the institution, formerly Columbian University, that a salaried coach has been employed. Formerly the coaching was done by graduates who received no compensation. Mr. Rorke, formerly head coach, will assist Mr. Rorke in his work.

The engagement of Rorke should act as an incentive to bring out many more candidates than have reported. In the university there are many good ex-college football players who have not tried the elevator in view of the fact that the Blue and Orange is going in strong for football this season, many of them probably come out and content for positions on the team.

BOYS' CLUB TAKES FIRST OF SEASON

The Washington Boys' Club football team defeated the Parkides in an interesting game by 12 to 5. The features of the game were the playing of Kerby, Scrivner, Murphy, and Kimble for the winners, and Spohn for the losers. The W. B. C. would like to arrange games with teams averaging 120 pounds. Address James Kerby, 2006 L Street. The lineup follows:

ONLY THREE ARE LEFT IN Y. M. C. A. TENNIS

Only three contestants remain to battle for first honors in the tennis tournament of the Y. M. C. A. on Capitol Hill. They are Van Hoesen, Lundy, and Avery. Van Hoesen yesterday defeated Welch in the semi-finals (6-3, 6-3), and Lundy beat McDonald (6-3, 6-3) in the second round. Avery and Lundy will meet in the semi-finals in the singles this evening, and the winner will play Van Hoesen for the championship.

In the doubles yesterday Sullivan and Lundy defeated Sweeney and Wurdemann (6-4, 5-7, 6-4). The match between Hart and H. A. Robinson, and Van Hoesen and McDonald was called on account of darkness. Van Hoesen and McDonald won one set (6-3).

PTOMAIN POISON KILLS CHILD.

PROFESSIONAL COACH FOR NAVAL ACADEMY

Graduate System Does Not Produce Results and Olcott, of Yale, Is Engaged.

It has been found impossible to adhere rigidly to the system of non-professional coaches at the Academy, as had been intended, owing to the fact that little success has been achieved in having former athletes who are now naval officers, detailed to the Academy.

Olcott, last year's Yale center, has been engaged to assist Prof. Paul J. Dashiell with the candidates, and was on the field today. Prof. Dashiell will, however, remain head coach.
